

Society of Genealogists makes prestige award to FreeBMD

Plaque reads:

Society of Genealogists
Prince Michael of Kent Award 2007
Awarded to the trustees of FreeBMD

In acknowledgement of the outstanding contribution to Genealogists across the globe by offering free access to the Births, Marriages and Deaths Indexes online.

The Society of Genealogists was delighted to make the presentation of the Prince Michael of Kent Award at its recent AGM to FreeBMD.

The award made for distinguished and outstanding services to Genealogy has only been made four times in its history. Previous recipients were The Family Record Centre, ABM Publishing and The Genealogical Society of Utah.

Graham Hart, a Trustee for FreeBMD, who received the award (pictured right), said, "On behalf of FreeBMD, we are very proud to have received the award and please accept the thanks of everyone involved in the project."

Camilla von Massenbach, Trustee of FreeBMD, stated, "The Trustees were thrilled to accept this award which recognises the huge efforts made by all the FreeBMD volunteers, without whom there would be no FreeBMD "

June Perrin, Chief Executive of the Society of Genealogists commented "The Board of Trustees were unanimous in their decision for 2007 and felt no-one could be more deserving of this prestigious award."
